Lunartics Ltd is a licensing and publishing company based in Oxford, UK which develops and promotes the Lunartics brand worldwide. Who would ever have thought the moon was in fact hollow - with an exotic secret world deep within - home to the Lunartics! With a vast array of 147 unique collectable characters, additionally Moonzone artwork and storylines, the Lunartics can be licensed across an incredible range of products; with both regional and worldwide licensing opportunities available.

Lunartics Licensing

Welcome to the moon of the Lunartics. With 147 unique characters already, the Lunartics come in just about every shape, size and personality. All characters have descriptions and an attributes list - which includes their birthdays, height, number of brain-cells, space miles travelled, burp volume and even their highest snooker break.

Lunartics 147 collectable characters

All Lunartics characters are depicted in their natural lunar environment. "The multitude of Lunartics have all emerged from Danny Flynn's vivid imagination... some are so adorable that you feel like inviting them for tea, but you may not wish to meet others on a dark night"

Sir Arthur C Clarke, Colombo, Sri Lanka. 12 March 2008

Lunartics Cutouts

The Lunartics characters are all available as "cut-outs" versions - enabling them to be easy transferred across a wide variety of products - such as clothing, bedspreads, stationery, wallpaper and too many other products that we could list. However you will have the best ideas, we look forward to welcoming you as licensees.

Lunartics Moonzones

There are seven distinct regions within the moon; Swamp, Sea, Jungle, Ice, City, Volcanic and Desert. Lunartics artist Danny Flynn has produced 35 detailed paintings that reflect the unique and colourful Moon zone environments, which are all available for Licensing.

Lunartics Licensed Products

As a developing brand, the Lunartics characters have already been licensed across many products - including roller-blinds, picture-doors, a UK mug range, Russian stationery and fruit flavoured tea for children, - which were promoted with Lunartics artwork and collector stickers.
